

Private Client Holdings' winning streak continues

The winners in the 2017 International Advisers Best Practise Awards for the South African region were announced last week. Private Client Holdings was selected as the overall Best Adviser Firm in South Africa, and in total walked away with three awards including awards for Excellence in Professional Development and Excellence in Business Strategy and the best performing firm overall in South Africa.

The International Adviser Best Practice Adviser Awards were created to acknowledge global advisor excellence and are open to all authorized financial adviser / wealth management firms in various regions around the world. Private Client Holdings will automatically be entered into the overall Best Adviser Firm up against companies in the United Kingdom, Europe, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Middle East.

At a black tie awards dinner last night, Mark MacSymon CFP®, a Wealth Manager at Private Client Holdings, was selected as Financial Planning Institutes Financial Planner of the Year 2017. This is considered the highest accolade a professional financial planner can obtain in South Africa.

We believe that being awarded the International Advisor Best Adviser Firm in South Africa and Marks selection as the FPI Financial Planner of the Year 2017 is testimony to the unique value proposition provided by Private Client Holdings and the professionalism of the team that supports our vision of "Nurturing wealth".

These recognitions by the International Advisers Best Practice Awards and the Financial Planning Institute of South Africa are evidence of our commitment to the financial well-being of the clients whom we serve. It stress tests the quality and resilience of the financial plans prescribed by the wealth management team at Private Client Holdings and it affirms that the company's business strategy, marketing strategy, HR, practice and operations management and regulation compliance are all of the very highest standard
